Microwave & Food Prep :

Plastics play an essential role in preserving & preparing the food we eat & serve our families. And together, microwave & plastic packaging can make it easy to create healthy meals in minutes.

When the food is properly packaged & stored, plastic & the microwave work together to help you produce healthy, delicious meals in minutes.

Polypropylene plastics are specially designed with flexibility & heat resistance for microwave use.

Refrigerator :

Proper food storage helps to preserve the quality and nutritional value of the foods you purchase, and also help make the most of your food dollar by preventing spoilage. Additionally, proper food storage can help prevent food-borne illnesses caused by harmful bacteria.

To retain quality and nutritive value, stock only the kinds and amounts of food you can store properly. Reduce dehydration and quality loss by using freezer-quality plastic containers.

Temperature in the refrigerator should be between 35 & 40°C and the freezer at 0°C or below. These temperatures are important so that they prevent the bacterial growths & keep your food from spoiling.
